Developing students' knowledge and skills in their background language

Welcome to the Saturday School of Community Languages

The Saturday School of Community Languages is a public secondary school which operates on Saturdays in Sydney, Wollongong and Newcastle. It has been offering excellence in languages teaching and learning since 1978.

The Saturday School of Community Languages gives students the opportunity to study their background community language when that language is not available at their own school or college.

A specialised languages curriculum

At the Saturday School of Community Languages:

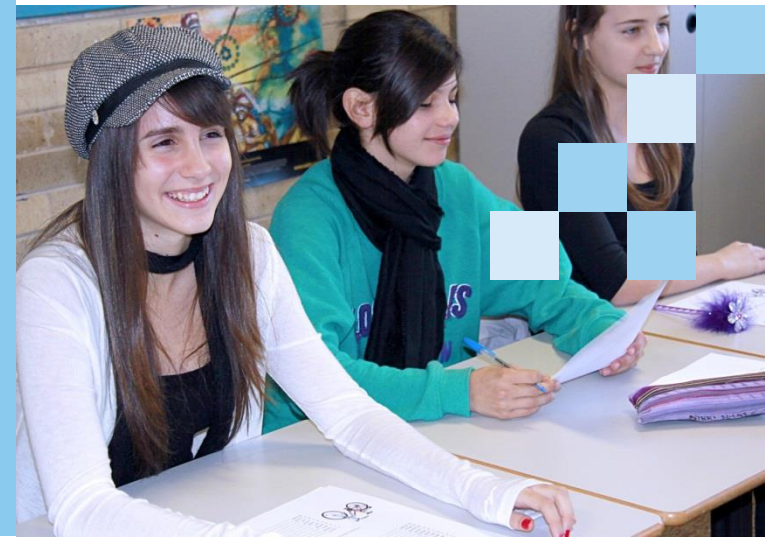

- students in Years 7–12, from both public and non-government schools and TAFE colleges, follow Board of Studies NSW syllabuses in a range of languages
- students include their language study as part of their Record of School Achievement and their Higher School Certificate.

Benefits of studying community languages

Studying a background community language:

- provides an opportunity to develop high levels of skills in a student's background community language
- improves performance across the curriculum through enhanced literacy skills which are transferable to English
- helps maintain rewarding relationships with parents, grandparents, relatives and other community members
- promotes a sense of cultural identity, resulting in heightened self-confidence and self-esteem
- places students in a better position to take advantage of employment opportunities.
